

ARMING IN HAWAII.

Minister Willis Calls on President Dole to Surrender,

Which the Latter Has No Idea of Doing.

EXCITEMENT IS HIGH.

Provisional Government Determined to Resist.

AUCKLAND, Jan. 5.—Advises from Honolulu to December 22 have been received here by the steamer Alameda, which has just arrived here from San Francisco. The officers of the vessel stated that the excitement in Honolulu over the political situation was growing in intensity. The provisional government was as firm as ever in its determination to maintain its position, and was completing its preparations to resist any effort that might be made to restore the monarchy. The members of the police force of the island had been notified they would be expected to take arms in defense of the government, and a number of them had been dismissed from the service for refusing to obey this order. The officers further stated that the minister of the United States had written to the provisional government, requesting that they surrender office, as the United States government had decided in favor of the restoration of the queen. The minister, in his communication, informed the government that Liliuokalani had agreed to grant amnesty to all those who had taken part in the revolution, to satisfy the obligations of the present government and to govern faithfully in accordance with the present constitution. The government was preparing a long reply to the minister. The Commercial Advertiser of Honolulu in an article supporting the government, declared that the United States congress had taken the matter out of President Cleveland's hands by calling for the papers in the Hawaiian correspondence and asserts the provisional government will not retire from power unless compelled to by force, and says that it is not likely to be employed.

HAWAIIAN INVESTIGATION. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The senate sub-committee of the committee on foreign relations, retained its investigation of the Hawaiian situation yesterday. Senator Butler sat with the committee for the first time, having returned from his holiday vacation, so all the members of the sub-committee with the exception of Senator Sherman were present. Professor Alexander was again the only witness present, and his examination was continued on the line begun Wednesday. He devoted much time to relating the details of the revolution of January last, and explaining the active part taken by the American minister and the troops of the United States and showed conclusively, to his own mind at least, that the revolution was entirely independent of the official influence of this country. It is possible that time may be asked to send to Hawaii for witnesses, and it is hinted that Mr. Jones, who has been away toward Honolulu on the afternoon of his appearance before the committee, goes largely as the messenger of the senate foreign relations committee, to request the attendance of persons now in the islands to appear before the committee. The event the committee would not be able to report before some time in February.

HAD TWO PRESIDENTS. Mrs. Lease and Freeborn Both Attempt to Act as Governors. OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 3.—The state board of charities met at the same asylum with a double header, Mrs. Lease and J. W. Freeborn both claiming the presidency. No business was transacted, as the board could not well act with two persons presiding.

Horse Breeders' Association. CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—At a special meeting of the Northwestern Association of Trotting and Pacing Horse Breeders, the old organization was dissolved and a new one formed under the same name. The old organization was voluntary, and at the annual meeting in December it was decided to form an incorporated body and the special meeting was called for that purpose. The capital stock was fixed at $10,000.

Bandits Run Trapped. FRESCO, Cal., Jan. 5.—The latest news from the mountains is that Evans and Merrill, the bandits, have been located at Demaster's logging camp on Dickey creek, about four miles from Pine Flat. Parties who arrived from the hills were so confident the officers had trapped the outlaws that they were freely offering bets that Evans would be brought in within forty-eight hours.

Down to the Wages. NORTH ANGELES, Minn., Jan. 5.—A reduction of ten per cent in the wages of the employees of the Hunter Machine shops, the largest producers of machinery in the east, goes into effect today. The reduction is based upon the prevailing low prices of machinery, and is an alternative in preference to the entire closing down of the works. The wages will be restored to the old figure on April 1st if the condition of trade justifies.

Both Mr. Breakbridge and Owens are actively canvassing.

The Iron Trade. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 5.—The Iron Trade Review, this week, says: The close of 1893 recorded the lowest prices for iron and steel in the history of the trade. There has been a depreciation to think that the coming year would arrest the downward tendency, but evidence is to the contrary.

TARIFF DISCORD.

Chairman Holman Calls the Democrats for a Conference.

Only Those Opposed to Wilson Bill Respond.

CLASH IN THE PARTY

Feared by Many of the Democratic Members.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Judge Holman yesterday issued the following call: There will be a meeting of the Democratic members of the house in the hall of the house on Friday evening, January 5, at 8 p. m., especially to consider revenue measures. A general attendance of the Democratic members is earnestly requested.

WILLIAM S. HOLMAN, Chairman. It is in response to the request of Democratic congressmen made before the holiday adjournment. The purpose of the call is to consider the tariff bill, not only as to the means by which it will be acted on, but also as to the merits of the bill itself. In this respect the movement is accepted by the tariff leaders as the first open demonstration on the Democratic side of the house in the opposition to the Wilson bill in its present form. None of the members of the ways and means committee have signed the call, the names being confined to those who do not approve one feature or another of the bill.

Judge Holman said: "I expect the discussion will be very general, and will take in the entire range of tariff differences. The substance of the bill including the internal revenue feature and the income tax will also come in for attention. Chairman Wilson and his associates expect as their willingness to go into caucus. Mr. Wilson said it was his understanding the customs features and all other sections of the bill would be considered. Many Democrats depreciate the caucus, as they see in it the prospects of a disagreeable clash within the party."

EXPERIMENTAL STATIONS.

Secretary Morton Surprised at What He Regards as Misapprehension.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Secretary Morton expressed surprise yesterday at what he regards as a misrepresentation of his position in regard to the agricultural experimental stations appropriation, and of his action in omitting that branch of the service from the estimates of department expenditures for the fiscal year. "As a matter of fact," said the secretary, "I have taken the same course in this respect as was adopted by my predecessor, General Ruska. I have taken pains in a statement included in my annual report, to deduct $7,000,000 (the amount omitted for experiment stations) from the total decrease in the estimates with the explanation that it is a sum improperly included in the department appropriation, and to claim credit only for the net decrease."

NO INTERFERENCE.

Report That Uncle Sam Would Interfere in Brazilian Affairs Unfounded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The report current in Montevideo that President Lulito was negotiating with United States Minister Thompson looking to the intervention of the United States fleet at Rio in accomplishing a settlement of Brazilian difficulties, was denied by officials of the state and navy departments.

The Montevideo dispatch was shown Secretary Herbert and he said if any such intervention was contemplated he is not informed of it.

In the state department it was asserted no information of such negotiation has been received from Minister Thompson and no instructions had been sent him to take such action.

AGAINST THE WILSON BILL.

The Governor of West Virginia Gives His Views.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Hon. W. A. MacCorkle, governor of West Virginia, and Senator Henry G. Davis, president of the West Virginia and Pittsburgh Railroad company, have given the Manufacturers' Record their views at length on the Wilson tariff bill. Mr. MacCorkle says the Democratic doctrine for New England has been in favor of retaining the tariff on coal and that it is in direct opposition to the Democratic principles to remove the duty. He quotes the tariffs of 1789-90, 1842, and the Walker tariff of 1846, in support of his argument.

Mr. Davis gives a history of the New England soft coal trade and proves by statistics showing prices, tonnage, etc., that free coal would throw that entire market open to foreign producers and shut out Southern shippers of coal almost entirely.

A terrible explosion followed, blowing the roof off the house, and injuring more or less eight persons. The only way any of their lives was saved was by jumping into a creek, which runs near the house. The doctors think Collins and wife and four children will die.

Madeline Pollard's Movements.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 5.—The mysterious movements of Miss Madeline Pollard since leaving Cincinnati, are greatly perplexing Colonel Breckinridge and his friends here. REALISM AT THE 'FRISCO FAIR.

A Mining Camp Shows Things Just as They Were in '49.

Most realistic is the mining camp of '49 in the midwinter fair of San Francisco. The good and bad features, the flashy and the picturesque, are set forth as they existed in the feverish days of goldseeking. The cabins of Mackay, Perkins and Jones, the two last named now senators of the United States are reproduced to the life. There is a shanty saloon, with bar-keepers in rough shirts and boots, but they sell temperance drinks only. The typical gambling-den is not omitted, nor does the old miner fail to see the frontier postoffice, the tent or the frame hut in which his newspaper was rolled off a hand-press, and the rough barber shop where he had his hair cut when it grew down into his eyes. At one end of the camp are some Indian tents with real Indians, like those who used to buy firewater of the miners and often exchange shots with them when both were under its influence. At the other end of the camp a theater is shown, with candles for footlights and antiquated properties. Here the variety performances which used to delight the rude gold-diggers are repeated. And finally there is the mining camp graveyard with its scattered headstombs.
